

Gnanomat announces appointment of new Business Development Manager

Madrid, 10th February, 2017

Gnanomat S.L. is pleased to confirm the incorporation of Amador Muntó to the Company team as Business Development Manager. Amador will launch activities of commercialization and development the business area with final customers.

Amador obtained a BSc in Economics and a PostGraduate in International Business. He has developed new international business in different sectors and completed his professional training with an MBA.

He will maximise opportunities in the rapidly-growing global market for graphene based nanomaterials, open new market opportunities and creating technological customized solutions to our partners.

About Gnanomat

Gnanomat S.L. is a Spanish company in the area of nanotechnology that develops and manufactures high add value nanomaterials for different final applications, in particular Energy Storage. Gnanomat counts on a technology to develop high add value nanomaterials in the area of Energy Storage. Gnanomat business model is based on collaboration with partners in the area of Energy Storage developers by optimizing advanced nanomaterials.